The Lake Zurich Fire/Rescue Department Earns 2005 Life Safety Achievement Award.

The Lake Zurich Fire/Rescue Department has been presented with their eighth Life Safety Achievement Award for the year 2005 by the Residential Fire Safety Institute (RFSI). The award was announced by Roy. L. Marshall, Director, of the RFSI.

For 13 years, the Life Safety Achievement Award has recognized the local fire prevention activities that contributed to reducing the number of lives lost in residential fires. The Lake Zurich Fire/Rescue Department qualified for this award in year 2005 because it recorded zero fire deaths in structures during that year. Although residential fires in the U.S. account for only 20 percent of all fires, they result in 80 percent of all fire deaths. The RFSI is committed to reducing that number. A total of 769* fire departments in the U.S., Canada, Italy, Japan and Greece received the 2005 Life Safety Achievement Award.

"Experience tells us that fire prevention activity and public education can significantly reduce life and property loss from residential fires," Marshall said. "Prevention and education are very cost effective compared to the traditional approach of relying on fire suppression. The Life safety Achievement Award recognizes fire departments for their fire prevention efforts and encourages them to continually improve those efforts."

The RFSI is a public interest group whose mission is to reduce residential fire deaths and injuries. The RFSI advocates the use of residential fire sprinklers, smoke alarms, carbon monoxide detectors and teaching people fire-safe behavior. The RFSI assists fire departments with implementing residential sprinkler/smoke alarm programs on a local basis. The RFSI's membership includes the United States Fire Administration, The National Association of State Fire Marshals and private industry/associations with an interest in and commitment in residential fire safety.
